Re: Sign Code Amendment

This amendment is a housekeeping matter that the staff wishes to take care of. The current code is silent in regard to the number and/or size of ground signs allowed for business or manufacturing zoned properties. At present there is no limit on the number or size of ground signs that may be erected on a site other than the overall square footage allotment for the property. This amendment would place the same restrictions on ground signs that are currently in place for pole signs. One pole or ground sign per principal street frontage would be allowed for eligible properties. The size of the sign would be limited to 72 sq. ft. per side with up to two sign faces allowed per sign.
